

While working in groups, list your predictions around the chest of why France, Spain, and England wanted to establish themselves in the new world.

